ABOUT RAY WONG

For over eight years, I have managed high-value global accounts, led cross-functional teams, controlled budgets of over USD 250K a month, and negotiated cost savings for major brands like 3M, Heineken, and GSK. But outside the boardroom, I am a builder. I use cutting-edge AI environments like Cursor and Gemini to prototype full-stack applications, build WeChat mini-programs, and run digital communities for over 1,500 sports fans.

I believe everyone has a unique mix of talent, interest, and expertise. Often, standard corporate roles fail to capture this complexity. But a non-traditional skill set isn't a limitation—it is a superpower. I built this website to bypass the rigid filters of typical job applications and show the world my actual skills, my creative thinking, and the digital products I build.

I am not looking to just fill a seat. I am looking for the right partners, clients, or employers who value a hybrid builder—someone who can manage a commercial relationship, design a strategic roadmap, and write the code to bring an idea to life.

CORE STRENGTHS

Commercial Leadership

Eight years of global account management — leading teams, controlling six-figure monthly budgets, and delivering measurable savings for enterprise brands.

Hands-on Building

From WeChat mini-programs to full-stack prototypes in Cursor and Gemini — I ship real products for real communities, not just slide decks.

The Hybrid Builder

Strategy, relationships, and code in one person. I can sit across the table from a client and then go write the feature that closes the gap.

CASE STUDY

Custom FPL Engagement Platform — Faleague

Faleague — a full-stack football hub combining Fantasy Premier League tooling, an AI FPL analyst, World Cup coverage, automated news delivery, and mini-games for a digital community of 1,500+ global sports fans.

OVERVIEW

Global football fans don't want five different apps for scores, FPL decisions, transfer gossip, and quick fantasy games. Faleague consolidates the entire matchweek experience into a single, always-on destination — built for a WeChat-based community that lives and breathes Premier League and World Cup football.

IMPACT

- 1,500+ — Global community members
- 6 — Core product modules
- 2 — Mini-game formats
- EN / N-eᄁ — Bilingual interface

PRODUCT MODULES

World Cup Hub

Live match ticker, group standings across all 12 groups, top scorers and assists leaderboards, plus upcoming fixture tracking for tournament-wide engagement.

My FPL Dashboard

Connect a Fantasy Premier League entry ID to unlock squad snapshots, live rank, gameweek points, team value, and full season history.

AI FPL Analyst

A dedicated chat interface for captaincy, transfers, player comparisons, and fixture planning — grounded in live FPL data and personalised when an Entry ID is connected.

Planner & Fixtures

Gameweek transfer planner, chip strategy tooling, and the complete 2026/27 fixture list with head-to-head history across GW1–38.

Automated News Feed

Aggregated football news across Trending, Transfers, EPL/FPL, World Cup, and Leagues — filterable by region and refreshed automatically.

Mini 5 Fantasy Games

Quick five-player fantasy formats for both FPL and World Cup — pick a squad, set captain, and compete on live leaderboards.

BUILD APPROACH

- AI FPL analyst chat grounded in live data, with squad-specific answers when an Entry ID is connected.
- Live data integrations for FPL entry lookup, match results, news ingestion, and transfer feeds.
- Bilingual UX with English and Chinese language switching for a global fan community.
- Dark and light mode theming with a mobile-first, dashboard-style information architecture.
- Modular navigation across World Cup, My FPL, News, Transfers, and Play mini-games.

Sternespieler 3D Mascot

A football-inspired character mascot built in Blender — from stylized portrait studies to a jersey-ready figure with art-toy appeal. Published on Behance as part of my 3D modeling practice.

OVERVIEW

Sternespieler is a personal 3D character project exploring cartoon proportions, expressive facial design, and football-inspired branding. The work moves from clean portrait renders to a full-body figure in kit — shaped for potential use as a community mascot, designer toy, or sports-media avatar.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Blender — Primary tool
- 3 — Published studies
- #29 — Jersey identity
- Art Toy — Design direction

RENDER STUDIES

Front Portrait

Stylized head study with bold green eyes, sculpted hair, and a clean football-badge motif on the torso.

Three-Quarter Angle

Secondary portrait angle showing ear detail, hair volume, and the character's graphic silhouette.

Kit Back Detail

Back-of-jersey render with the #29 identity — pushing the design from portrait study toward a matchday-ready mascot.

CONTENT CREATOR · FPL CHINA

I create and publish FPL content across Xiaohongshu, Weibo, and Bilibili — the three platforms where Chinese football fans actually discover, discuss, and play Fantasy Premier League.

PLATFORMS

Xiaohongshu · FSY.FPL

Visual-first FPL posts — daily price trackers, S&P... tournament updates, AI tool diaries, and World Cup campaigns.

Weibo · FSY_FPL

FPL... commentary, tournament live draws, street-interview videos, and matchweek discussion for 980+ followers.

Bilibili · FantasyS&P

Long-form FPL video guides since 2020 — beginner tutorials, GW advice, and community league promotions.

ENTERPRISE EXPERIENCE

8+ years across global marketing execution, account leadership, and strategic sourcing — from luxury CX to production at scale.
